Child Protection Policy

Introduction

Kidderminster Harriers FC & Kidderminster Harriers Football Community Trust aims to create an atmosphere where all children feel valued and safe and a place where their welfare is promoted.

Safeguarding principles

Part of the philosophy of the Club and Trust is the commitment to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of young people and adults at risk. The Boards of both the Club and Trust insist that this principle is embedded in all we do.

3. Work with our schools in supporting their policies both on school premises and when undertaking partnership work at the Stadium or elsewhere.

- All children, young people and vulnerable adults have a right to be protected from abuse regardless of their age, gender, disability, culture, language, racial origin, religious belief or sexual identity.
- All suspicions and allegations of abuse will be taken seriously and responded to swiftly and appropriately.

• Working in partnership with children, young people and their parents/carers is an essential element of our work.

The Club and Trust are committed to working together with Children's Services Departments, and Local Safeguarding Children Boards (LSCB's) in accordance with their procedures and in line with the most recent HM Government guidance - Working Together to Safeguard Children (2015). In addition, the Trust is committed to working together with agencies within football to create a safer environment in which all can enjoy the game.

Where the Trust believes, or is informed that circumstances exist which may harm any child(ren), young person(s), adult(s) at risk or poses or may pose a risk of harm to them, the Trust will refer the matter to a statutory agency such as the Police or Social Care Team for further investigation. Equality

Human rights are universal, protecting everyone, both young and old.

Children and young people have many of the same rights as adults, for example the right to express their views, the right to be free from torture and inhuman and degrading treatment and the right to a private and family life.

Further details can be found in the Club and Trust Equality Policy.

Reporting Concerns and Whistleblowing Policy

Although this policy gives details of how to raise concerns, there is a stand-alone policy.

That policy sets out how individuals can raise concerns particularly about the safety and welfare of children, young people and vulnerable adults involved at Kidderminster Harriers FC and the Community Trust. There may also be issues around equality or discrimination matters that raise concerns that may be raised in a similar manner. Those principles also cover all other aspects of malpractice by individuals, within the Club, projects or as part of the Trust's practices.

It provides a method of raising concerns and how people can receive feedback on any action taken

Anti-bullying

We at Kidderminster Harriers Football Club and Kidderminster Harriers Community Trust are committed to providing a caring, friendly and safe environment for all of our participants so they can participate in activities in a relaxed and secure atmosphere. Bullying of any kind is unacceptable at our club. If bullying does occur, all participants, parents and carers should be able to tell and know that incidents will be dealt with promptly and effectively. We are a TELLING club. This means that anyone who knows that bullying is happening is expected to tell the Designated Safeguarding Officer or lead coach of the session or Project.

Full details are in the Anti-bullying Policy

Statement on working ethically with Children and Adults at Risk

The Club and Trust has a statement on ethical working. All at the Club and Trust should have read this and follow its principles.

Legislation

The Children Act 1989 currently provides the legislative framework for child protection in England. Key principles established by the act include:

- the paramount nature of the child's welfare
- the expectations and requirements around duties of care to children.

The Children Act 2004 strengthens the 1989 Act. Encourages partnerships between agencies and creates more accountability. The Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 established a single body to make decisions about individuals who should be barred from working with children and to maintain a list of these individuals.

Child Protection

A child is defined as: Any person aged under 18

Any concerns will be taken seriously and acted upon appropriately and the organisation will pay attention to how children feel.

We will be rigorous and vigilant in protecting everyone using our services from abuse, bullying and intimidation. We will do this through a careful recruitment and selection process, on-going supervision and monitoring arrangements and guidance on appropriate behaviour.

Everyone involved with the Club and/or Trust is obliged to make sure that anyone using the services is safe.

There are 6 main elements to our Policy, which are described in the following sections:

- The types of abuse that are covered by the policy;
- The signs of abuse that Coaches, Staff and Volunteers should look out for;
- Roles and responsibilities for Safeguarding;
- Expectations of Coaches, Staff and Volunteers with regard to Safeguarding, and the procedures and processes that should be followed, include the support provided to children;
- How the Club and Trust will ensure that all Coaches, Staff and Volunteers are appropriately trained, and checked for their suitability to work within the Trust;
- How the policy will be managed and have its delivery overseen.

Through implementation of this policy we will ensure that our Club and Trust provides a safe environment for children to participate. We will cross reference to other policies relevant to our safeguarding in the Trust and make reference to them in this policy where relevant.

Types of Abuse

Children who may require early help All Coaches, Staff and Volunteers working within the Club and Trust should be alert to the potential need for early help for children, considering following the procedures identified for initiating early help a child who:

- Is disabled and has specific additional needs.
- Has special educational needs.
- Is a young carer.
- Is showing signs of engaging in anti-social or criminal behaviour.

- Is in a family circumstance presenting challenges for the child, such as substance abuse, adult mental health, domestic violence; and/or
- Is showing early signs of abuse and/or neglect.
- Is showing signs of displaying behaviour or views that are considered to be extreme

These children are therefore more vulnerable; this Trust will identify who their vulnerable children are and ensure that they know the processes to secure advice, help and support where needed.

Child Abuse

In relation to children safeguarding and promoting their welfare is defined as;

- Protecting children from maltreatment
- Preventing impairment of children's' health or development
- Ensuring that children are growing up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care
- Taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes

There are four types of child abuse as defined in 'Working Together to Safeguard Children' (2015) which is defined in the Keeping Children Safe in Education statutory Guidance 2016 as:

Physical abuse - may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning/scalding, drowning, suffocating, or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

Emotional abuse - is the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to children that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond the child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, though it may occur alone.

Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact or non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse (including via the internet). Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males; women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.

Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. It may include a failure to:

- Provide adequate food, clothing and shelter.
- Protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger.
- Ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate caregivers); or
- Ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment.
- Respond to a child's basic emotional needs

Bullying and forms of bullying including Cyber Bullying is also abusive and will include at least one, if not two, three or all four, of the defined categories of abuse

Signs of Abuse (Child Protection)

Physical abuse

Particularly if involved in physical activities, most children will collect cuts and bruises and injuries, and these should always be interpreted in the context of the child's medical / social history, developmental stage and the explanation given. Most accidental bruises are seen over bony parts of the body, e.g. elbows, knees, shins, and are often on the front of the body. Some children, however, will have bruising that is more than likely inflicted rather than accidental.

Important indicators of physical abuse are bruises or injuries that are either unexplained or inconsistent with the explanation given; these can often be visible on the 'soft' parts of the body where accidental injuries are unlikely, e.g. cheeks, abdomen, back and buttocks.

A delay in seeking medical treatment when it is obviously necessary is also a cause for concern.

The physical signs of abuse may include

- Unexplained bruising, marks or injuries on any part of the body.
- Multiple bruises- in clusters, often on the upper arm, outside of the thigh.
- Cigarette burns.
- Human bite marks.
- Broken bones.
- Scalds, with upward splash marks.
- Multiple burns with a clearly demarcated edge

Changes in behaviour that can also indicate physical abuse:

- Fear of parents/carers being approached for an explanation.
- Aggressive behaviour or severe temper outbursts.
- Flinching when approached or touched.
- Reluctance to get changed, for example in hot weather.
- Depression.
- Withdrawn behaviour

Emotional Abuse

Emotional abuse can be difficult to identify as there are often no outward physical signs. Indications may be a developmental delay due to a failure to thrive and grow, however, children who appear well-cared for may nevertheless be emotionally abused by being taunted, put down or belittled. They may receive little or no love, affection or attention from their parents or carers. Emotional abuse can also take the form of children not being allowed to mix or play with other children. Changes in behaviour which can indicate emotional abuse include

- Neurotic behaviour e.g. sulking, hair twisting, rocking.
- Being unable to play.
- Fear of making mistakes.
- Sudden speech disorders.
- Self-harm.
- Fear of parent being approached regarding their behaviour.
- Developmental delay in terms of emotional progress

Sexual Abuse

It is recognised that there is underreporting of sexual abuse within the family. Trust Coaches, staff and volunteers should play a crucial role in identifying / reporting any concerns that they may have through, for example, the observation and play of younger children and understanding the indicators of behaviour in older children which may be underlining of such abuse.

All Coaches, Staff and Volunteers should be aware that adults, who may be men, women or other children, who use children to meet their own sexual needs abuse both girls and boys of all ages. Indications of sexual abuse may be physical or from the child's behaviour. In all cases, children who tell about sexual abuse do so because they want it to stop. It is important, therefore, that they are listened to and taken seriously.

The physical signs of sexual abuse may include:

- Pain or itching in the genital area.

- Bruising or bleeding near genital area.
- Sexually transmitted disease.
- Vaginal discharge or infection.
- Stomach pains.
- Discomfort when walking or sitting down.
- Pregnancy

Changes in behaviour which can also indicate sexual abuse include

- Sudden or unexplained changes in behaviour e.g. becoming aggressive or withdrawn.
- Fear of being left with a specific person or group of people.
- Having nightmares
- Running away from home.
- Sexual knowledge which is beyond their age, or developmental level.
- Sexual drawings or language.
- Bedwetting.
- Eating problems such as overeating or anorexia.
- Self-harm or mutilation, sometimes leading to suicide attempts.
- Saying they have secrets they cannot tell anyone about.
- Substance or drug abuse.
- Suddenly having unexplained sources of money.
- Not allowed to have friends (particularly in adolescence).
- Acting in a sexually explicit way towards adults

Neglect

It can be difficult to recognise neglect; however its effects can be long term and damaging for children.

The physical signs of neglect may include:

- Being constantly dirty or 'smelly'.
- Constant hunger, sometimes stealing food from other children.
- Losing weight or being constantly underweight.
- Inappropriate or dirty clothing

Neglect may be indicated by changes in behaviour which may include

- Mentioning being left alone or unsupervised.
- Not having many friends.
- Complaining of being tired all the time.
- Not requesting medical assistance and/or failing to attend appointment

Child Sexual Exploitation (Child Protection)

Risk factors may include;

- Going missing
- Engagement in offending
- Disengagement from education
- Using drugs or alcohol
- Unexplained gifts/money
- Repeat concerns about sexual health

- Decline in emotional wellbeing

All suspected or actual cases of CSE are a Safeguarding concern in which Child Protection procedures will be followed; this will include a referral to the police. If any coaches or staff are concerned about a participant, they will refer to the Designated Safeguarding Officer within the department.
